The training courses in this programme have been identified through training needs assessment and help support RSCP priorities for 2022/23. These priorities are derived from a number of sources, including: Child Safeguarding Practice Reviews (CSPRs); responses to current and national developments; and feedback from children, young people, families and carers.

Principles of RSCP Training

Our programme is based on principles to ensure that training is:

- Child centred and incorporates and promotes children's rights, the child's voice, and ensures that their welfare is treated as paramount.
- Incorporates equal opportunities and anti-oppressive practice and reflects the diversity of the communities served.
- Promotes and places the child within the family and recognises the need for working together and in partnership with parents and carers.
- Multi-agency and promotes the need for inter-agency working to safeguard children from harm.
- Evidence-based and incorporates learning from research, and service user participation.
- Incorporating and supporting a variety of learning styles including experiential and reflection.

Audiences

Safeguarding children and young people is everyone's business, which means that audiences are large and diverse. This includes the whole of the children and young people's workforce and those working with their parents or carers across all sectors and disciplines.

The courses on this training programme are only available to those who work predominantly or exclusively with children and families in the London Borough of Redbridge.

Quality Assurance and Evaluation of Impact

Our training is quality assured in-line with the above principles agreed within our Framework and Principles for Safeguarding Children Training.

If you attend one of our training events, you'll be asked to complete an online evaluation and you'll receive your certificate of attendance after completing it.

Each course will offer resources and ideas to 'transfer' learning to your teams and cascade throughout your organisation. You may also find an observer accessing your course, undertaking an independent evaluation.

We will follow up targeted courses by contacting participants to establish the impact of the training we deliver on practice and outcomes for children, young people and families.

More information on evaluating the impact of training and the concept of 'training transfer' can be found on the RSCP website.

Notes for Training Attendees and Managers

Learners: Please discuss and agree your attendance with your line manager (or appropriate individual if you are the line manager); you'll need to give us their details on the online booking form. Please ensure the training is appropriate to your role. Make sure you're free to attend the course applied for in full before booking.

Managers: Before agreeing a booking, please ensure you discuss the content of the course with the learner, how it will be applied in the workplace and its suitability for the learner in their role. You'll be copied into the email booking confirmation and certificate of attendance for your information. Please make a note of the date in your diary and consider a substitute to cover any unexpected absence or staff departure, as there is a charge for late cancellations. We don't make exceptions for operational reasons. Following the training, you may be asked how the training has contributed to practice and outcomes.

Fees: Our course fees are £65 per 'full day' and £35 per 'half day' training course in the classroom, and £65 per 'long' and £35 per 'short' training course online. The course fee for each course is payable by all except those working or volunteering for charities and will be invoiced using the billing details on the booking 5 working days before the training. The page relating to each event in the programme details what type of event it is. There is no course fee for attending events described as 'free courses' but one will be charged for non-attendance. No charges apply for free briefings.

Cancellation Policy:

- We only accept cancellations made in writing to redbridgescp.training@redbridge.gov.uk with a minimum of 5 working days' notice before the day of the course (not including the day of the course). We will confirm all cancellations in writing, usually within 3 working days.
- All other cancellations will be considered to be non-attendance and will not be eligible for a refund. The only exception to this is sickness on the day of the training, provided we are informed in writing (to the above email address), no later than the day of the course, by the learner's line manager or appropriate individual.
- If for any reason an organisation wishes to change the name on the booking, we must be informed of the name and email address of the new attendee, and who they are replacing, ahead of the course, to the email address above.

Non-attendance:

- If a place is booked and the learner does not attend, they will not be eligible for a refund. In addition, please note the following:
- Non-attendance at free courses will incur a course fee.
- Any non-attendance by those working or volunteering for a charity will incur a course fee.
- Course fees incurred due to non-attendance will be invoiced using the billing details on the booking after the training course.

What to expect from us:

- We'll send you confirmation of your booking by email (normally within three working days of receipt of your booking form), confirming the date, times, title and venue of the course, and the terms and conditions of the booking. If you don't receive a booking confirmation from us, you don't have a booking.
- Your booking confirmation will include a calendar entry attachment so you can add the date to your calendar.
- We'll send you another email, usually one week before the course, with a link to the training event (if it's online) and any pre-course reading materials you may need.
- For classroom training, we'll provide plenty of water and cups but we won't be able to provide any other refreshments.
- We monitor participation in our online courses. If you miss more than 15 minutes of the course, we will not be able to certificate your attendance or provide a refund.

What we expect from you (online):

- You will need to have a computer with a working internet connection, internet browser (Chrome, Safari or Microsoft Edge), microphone and webcam to take part. Please make sure your equipment is working properly.
- We require attendees to have their camera turned on throughout the training. Our online training is a virtual classroom and we expect attendees to be present and participating throughout. If you need to turn your camera off for any reason, please flag this in the chat.

What we expect from you (all courses):

- Part of your responsibility when attending training is to provide feedback. We'll send you a link to our online feedback form after your course. Upon receipt of your completed form, we'll send your certificate of attendance. A limit of three months to complete this applies.
- If we send any pre-course reading materials, we expect anyone joining the course to have read them prior to attendance.
- Prompt attendance is required by the 'Start' time indicated in your booking confirmation (we recommend joining the training at the 'Registration' time). The session will be locked to new attendees 15 minutes after the start time. Anyone who misses the course due to lateness will be turned away and will not be eligible for a refund.
- If you cannot attend the full course, this must be agreed in advance, in writing, by the RSCP. Any early departures not agreed in advance with the RSCP will be considered non-attendance and will not be eligible for a certificate of attendance or a refund.

Contact: If you need any further information or wish to discuss any additional needs, please call us on 020 8708 3289 or email redbridgescp.training@redbridge.gov.uk. Please follow us on Facebook and X (@RedbridgeSCP) for more safeguarding news and events.

What training should I attend?

Your employer is responsible for ensuring staff and volunteers receive basic training to raise awareness of safeguarding (often known as Level 1). They may also offer additional 'in-house' safeguarding training specific to your responsibilities and setting.

This Programme provides multi-agency training at Levels 2 and 3, as outlined in the London Safeguarding Children Partnership Training Competency Framework. It supports the skills and knowledge needed to work effectively within existing guidance and procedures, such as Working Together to Safeguard Children 2023, the Intercollegiate Document, 2019 for competences in healthcare and the London Child Protection Procedures.

Level 2 Training should be attended by practitioners who work predominantly, or have intensive but irregular contact, with children, young people and/or parents/carers.

Level 3 Training is more advanced and learners will have particular specialist child protection responsibilities which may include being a 'designated lead' in their agency for child protection.

For more guidance on what training is suitable for your needs, contact redbridgescp.training@redbridge.gov.uk or call the RSCP Training Manager on 020 8708 3812.

Further information on a range of safeguarding topics is available on the RSCP website.

	Examples of safeguarding responsibilities and professional competence
London SCP Training Level 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Working together to identify, assess and meet the needs of children where there are safeguarding concerns • To identify child focused interventions and measurable outcomes • Understanding the possible impact of parenting difficulties on parenting capacity. • Recognising the importance of family history and functioning. • Working with children and family members, including addressing lack of co-operation and superficial compliance.
London SCP Training Level 3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Attending Child Protection Conferences and managing Core Groups; roles, responsibilities and collaborative practice. • Using professional judgements to make decisions as to whether a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm. • Working with complexity. • Taking emergency action or intervention. • Promoting effective, professional practice. • Supervising child protection cases and advising other professionals.

Understanding Safeguarding Risks

Learning within our programme has been developed through ongoing training needs analysis carried out at a local level by the Training Subgroup of the RSCP and draws on feedback from our multi-agency learners.

This section of our programme contains courses on a range of risks faced by children, using lessons learned from incidences of significant harm found in the latest Triennial Analysis of Serious Case Reviews 2020 and recent Child Protection Case Reviews. It features key learning on those children most vulnerable to harm and links to the local services and practitioners supporting early intervention and support for families.

Cost of Living Crisis, Poverty and the Effects on Parenting and Children's Mental Health

Background

Poverty increases the risk of mental health problems and can be both a causal factor and a consequence. Mental health is shaped by the wide-ranging characteristics (including inequalities) of the social, economic and physical environments in which children and their families live.

Everyone working in the children and families workforce will benefit from developing their knowledge and awareness of the effects of family poverty.

Learning Objectives:

- Describe some of the emotional and psychological impacts of poverty and social exclusion on the lives of families with children
- The way that practitioner interactions with families can re-enforce or relieve feelings of blame and disempowerment.
- The types of support that can help mitigate the impact of poverty on parenting and children's outcomes.

Domestic Abuse and Safeguarding Children

Background

The trauma that children experience when they witness domestic violence in the home plays a major role in their development and physical well-being, effects of which can last into adulthood. The Domestic Abuse Act 2021 recognises children as victims of domestic abuse rather than witnesses.

Domestic abuse can also be a sign that children are suffering another type of abuse or neglect.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this training participants will be able to:

- Define domestic abuse considering its breadth and manifestations
- Identify the impact of domestic abuse on parenting capacity.
- Link the effects of domestic abuse on a child's welfare and development.
- Use relevant knowledge in effective engagement with families where domestic abuse is an issue.
- Identify the multi-professional roles in meeting the needs of children and families affected by domestic abuse.
- Understand local support and safeguarding procedures for those affected by domestic abuse and their children

Fabricated and Induced Illness

FREE BRIEFING

Background

The majority of parents have the best interests of their child at heart. However, there is a rare form of child abuse called Fabricated and Induced Illness (FII), where a parent or carer exaggerates or deliberately causes symptoms of illness in a child. This briefing explores this safeguarding issue and multi-agency responses.

Learning Objectives

- Understand what is meant by Fabricated or Induced Illness
- Recognise the possible signs of Fabricated or Induced Illness
- Understand why Fabricated or Induced Illness happens
- Know what to do if you suspect a child is at risk of abuse from Fabricated or Induced Illness

Intrafamilial Child Sexual Abuse – An Introduction

Background

This training will support you to improve your understanding of child sexual abuse within the family environment and help you to better identify signs and indicators

Learning Objectives

A better understanding of:

- the scale and nature of child sexual abuse
- how the impact of child sexual abuse presents in children, young people and adults
- how children communicate their experiences of sexual abuse, and the professional role in helping them do this
- how and why sexual abuse happens in families
- the importance of a 'whole family' approach to assessing and intervening with families
- Improved ability to identify the potential signs and indicators of sexual abuse and sexually abusive behaviour
- Greater confidence in identifying and responding to concerns of intra-familial child sexual abuse

Introducing the Sunrise Hub: Supporting the health and recovery of children affected by sexual abuse

FREE TRAINING

Background

The Independent Inquiry on Child Sexual Abuse has heard from victims and survivors of the psychological and physical effects on well-being, family and intimate relationships, faith, and education and career. For some victims and survivors these effects endure throughout adult life.

This half-day training aims to provide a space for front line professionals to understand local services and reflect on the support needs of children and families affected.

Learning Objectives:

- Increased awareness of identifying and responding to Child Sexual Abuse (CSA) concerns
- Increased awareness of the CSA response pathway
- Learn about the medical and emotional support needed following an allegation of sexual abuse/assault.
- Understand what is involved in a holistic health assessment for child sexual abuse and the difference between the various type of medicals available.
- Understand the service offered at the North East London Sunrise Hub and other services available in the area.

Modern Slavery Briefing

NEW FREE BRIEFING

Background

Victims of modern slavery and human trafficking are men, women and children of all ages, ethnicities and nationalities. However, exploitation is normally more prevalent among the most vulnerable or within minority or socially excluded groups.

Poverty, lack of education, unstable social and political conditions, economic imbalances, climate change and war are key issues that contribute to someone's vulnerability in becoming a victim of modern slavery.

This briefing will cover:

- Modern Slavery in the UK
- The different types of exploitation
- Identifying victims: common signs to look out for and when to report.
- The National Referral Mechanism and referral pathways

Protecting Children and Vulnerable Adults from Abuse Linked to Faith or Belief

Background

To equip professionals with the knowledge and confidence to recognise and deal with child abuse linked to faith and belief.

Learning Objectives

Participants will:

- Understand what abuse linked to faith or belief is
- Understand the context of abuse linked to faith or belief within harmful practices
- Identify factors within various faith and belief systems that may make some of these harmful to children and adults
- Gain greater confidence to recognise the indicators of abuse linked to faith or belief
- Increase confidence in supporting those at risk of or who have undergone abuse linked to faith or belief
- Consider different ways to assess the religious/spiritual beliefs of families using quality assured tools from the NFGMC
- Reflect on personal views about faith/belief and how this may impact case handling
- Learning from serious case reviews

Radicalisation Awareness Workshop

FREE TRAINING

Background

This half day interactive workshop aims raise awareness among frontline staff of radicalisation and the risks associated with the targeting of vulnerable individuals by extremists.

The session covers local and national context and threats, the process of radicalisation, and factors which may contribute to an individual's susceptibility to radicalisation. Topical examples will be used as illustrations and case studies to understand the referral process.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the workshop, participants will have:

- An awareness and understanding of the statutory duty to prevent radicalisation and their role within it
- Increased confidence to discuss issues and concerns and how to respond to them
- The ability to use existing expertise and professional judgement to recognise potentially vulnerable individuals

Safeguarding Children from Honour Based Abuse and Forced Marriage

Background

So-called honour-based violence is an international term used by many cultures for the justification of abuse and violence. Honour-based abuse can go hand in hand with forced marriages, affecting young men and young women. The national Violence Against Women and Girls \(VAWG\) Strategy has identified honour-based violence and forced marriage as a focus, as the very nature of it increases the likelihood of this abuse going underreported.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course participants will:

- Understand the definitions of honour-based abuse and forced marriage and the impact on children.
- Have explored cultural issues and community beliefs regarding honour and marriage and the differences between “arranged” and “forced” marriage.
- Be able to recognise forms of honour-based abuse and identify risk indicators in an agency setting.
- Be able to identify practice issues with regard to cultural sensitivity, community beliefs and religion.
- Gain an understanding of the Forced Marriage Protection Orders and criminal legislation.
- Have looked at case examples.
- Be aware of the local safeguarding referral processes and both national and local support agencies.

Safeguarding Privately Fostered Children

Background

Private fostering is the term used when someone who is not a parent or a 'close relative' (e.g. great aunt, cousin, mum's friend or a neighbour) cares for a child or young person in their own home. The Local Authority has a duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of privately fostered children under the Children's Act 2004.

Many private foster carers and parents are not aware of their obligations and, as a result, many private fostering arrangements remain hidden, leaving the children who have been placed with them without the benefit of formal monitoring arrangements.

Learning Objectives:

By the end of this training participants will:

- Recognise a Private Fostering Situation
- Understand the Local Authorities' duty towards privately fostered children
- Know how to notify a privately fostering arrangement

'Think Family': Safeguarding the Whole Family

Background

The 'Think Family' approach recognises that often people live as part of families, who provide support for each another. However, certain issues and hostilities can occur, and these events can adversely impact on the development and resilience of children.

Learning Objectives

- Develop a clear understanding of what the Think Family Approach entails, including its principles, key components, and its relevance to practice.
- Recognize the importance of considering the needs of the whole family when working with individuals, particularly those with complex needs.
- Understand the ethical considerations when working with families, including respecting family autonomy and confidentiality.
- Encourage the importance of multi-agency collaboration to provide a coordinated response to family needs.

Understanding Child & Adolescent Mental Health

Background

This multi-disciplinary course, over two days, will enable participants from a wide range of backgrounds to consider how, through their role; they can support and promote the mental health and wellbeing of children and young people, identify early mental health problems and work together with others to improve access to services and support.

Participants must commit to both sessions for certification.

Day ONE: Theory

- Apply current conceptual models for thinking about mental health, mental health problems and disorders in teenagers.
- Describe current theories and research to deepen your understanding and develop your practice.
- Understand your own and others perspective on children and young people's mental health

Day TWO: Practice

This interactive half day learning builds on the theory session and enables participants to explore practical application of supporting children and young people in their mental health.

Learning Objectives:

Participants will gain opportunities to:

- Share therapeutic skills
- Explore solution focused therapy approach
- Setting up the therapeutic space
- Creating an alliance
- Goal setting
- Scaling

Understanding Child Neglect in a Multi-agency Context

Background

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect can, however, be difficult to identify and quantify. This training aims to support practitioners in identifying a child's needs through examination of their lived experience and circumstances and through assessing motivation to change.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will have:

- A refreshed understanding of neglect and its impact on children and young people
- An understanding of how to identify and support decision making on cases relating to neglect
- Discussed practical implications and how to overcome barriers in relation to identifying neglect

Understanding the Journeys of Refugee and Vulnerable Migrant Children

Background

Asylum seekers are some of the most vulnerable people in society and they can sometimes be misrepresented in the media.

The UK asylum process is complex, which can make it a difficult system to understand and in November 2017 the Government published a strategy on working with unaccompanied minors and refugee children.

This half day course aims to support professionals to improve their capacities to contribute to safeguarding good outcomes for children and young people from families who have sought refuge.

Learning Outcomes

This course will enable practitioners:

- To identify the distinction between refugees, asylum seekers and other migrants.
- To address the misconceptions regarding asylum seekers and refugees and their experiences
- To understand the multi-agency responses needed to safeguard children and young people affected.

Understanding Unconscious Bias

Background

Human judgement is informed by perception, memory and interpretation. When we're working with this complexity, we try to simplify this and rely on past experience, stereotypes and group consensus.

Bias includes the tendency to interpret new evidence as confirmation of one's existing beliefs or theories.

Learning Objectives

- To explore unconscious biases in a safe and supportive environment
- To reflect on the impact of beliefs about the concepts of equality, diversity and inclusion on decision making
- To encourage open discussion about potentially difficult subjects affecting safeguarding practice

Working to Safeguard Children with Disabilities in Redbridge

Background

Children with disabilities are recognised as having increased vulnerability to abuse for a number of reasons. The RSCP Children with Disabilities Protocol provides an agreed framework and guidance for partner agencies to ensure this particular group of children and young people are safeguarded.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the briefing, participants will:

- Understand indicators of abuse and neglect
- Explore some of the issues faced by parents of disabled children and have increased confidence to work in partnership with parents
- Have increased knowledge and confidence in seeking support in your role and an awareness of where to get that support.

Working with Race, Culture and Belief Systems

Background

This course aims to enhance practitioners' knowledge, skills and understanding of how race, culture and/or faith and belief systems can impact on our safeguarding children practice. The course will also focus on key learning from Child Safeguarding Practice Reviews, the roles and responsibilities of practitioners, the legal framework and how to identify risk factors.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course participants will be able to:

- Describe the influence of their own and their families' race, culture, faith or beliefs on parenting and how we see children and families.
- Display confidence in talking about their own and other people's attitudes and beliefs – and how these might affect their judgment when providing services to children and families.
- Demonstrate cultural competence and professional curiosity in these areas when leading or joining in assessments or offering any other services to children and their families.
- Outline the key local issues related to the course topics.

Contextual Safeguarding and Child on Child Abuse

Safeguarding adolescents is one of the RSCP's priorities. Courses in this section of our programme seek to equip participants to understand and respond to the 'context' of where and when young people can experience significant harm beyond their families. It recognises that the different relationships young people form in their neighbourhoods, schools and online can feature violence and abuse.

Parents and carers may have little influence and insight into these contexts, and young people's experiences of abuse and exploitation outside the home can damage parent-child relationships.

Contextual Safeguarding, therefore, expands child protection beyond traditional sectors, to any professional and volunteer with influence and opportunities to address the abuse young people experience beyond their front doors.

Awareness of Child Sexual and Criminal Exploitation (CSE & CCE)

FREE BRIEFING

Background

This is a briefing on child exploitation aimed at those working with children, young people and families who have no prior knowledge and only require introductory level information.

Learning Outcomes

Topics covered in the briefing:

- What is child exploitation?
- What are the signs/symptoms that a child or young person may be being exploited or at risk of being?
- What makes some children and young people more vulnerable than others to exploitation?
- What action should be taken if concerns are raised that child or young person is at risk?
- What lessons can we learn from cases of child exploitation nationally?

Harmful Sexual Behaviours and the Brook Traffic Light Tool

Background

As children get older, the way they express their sexual feelings changes. Children and young people who develop harmful sexual behaviours (HSB) harm themselves and others. This course, delivered by Brook, aims to help professionals to identify HSB and respond appropriately.

It also supports attendees with how it applies in your unique setting, as well as helping you to develop an organisational approach to responding to sexual behaviours.

All delegates will receive a Traffic Light Tool booklet to support their learning and a pdf of the Tool, as well as access to a digital version of the Tool and certificate upon completion.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will be able to:

- Identify: The behaviour and establish if it is: Typical or developmentally appropriate, problematic or harmful
- Understand: What the behaviour is communicating
Why the child or young person may be exhibiting it
- Respond appropriately. This will depend upon: What's motivating the behaviour; the severity of the behaviour

Safeguarding Children in a Digital World

Background

The online world opens up immense opportunities for children and young people. It is integral to modern day youth culture. It also, however, carries many threats. This course aims to equip staff with an understanding of what the risks are and how to prevent, recognise and respond to them.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will:

- Understand how to minimize the risk to children using technology
- Have an understanding of modern-day use of technology and the context in which children and young people use it
- Have developed an awareness of the risks involved
- Have developed an awareness and understanding of the legislative context for safeguarding children in a digital world
- Know elements of good practice to keep children safe when using technology
- Have developed an understanding of how predators use technology
- Understand when and how to share information, paying attention to the legislative requirements, including developing an understanding of key legislation, such as the Online Safety Act 2023

Safeguarding Children who go Missing

Background

Every child or young person returning to home or returning after being missing must have an independent return from missing interview (IRMI). This training gives an overview of the process and relevant procedures for partner agencies.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of these briefing, participants will be able:

- To define the term 'missing' for young people and the risks this poses
- To understand the process for safeguarding children who go missing from home.
- To understand the role and remit of the Family Intervention Service.
- To identify additional support services for young people returned from missing.

Sexualisation, Development and Safeguarding Children and Young People

Background

Would you like to encourage and support young people to make positive choices about relationships? Enable them to feel confident and happy in making their own decisions about sexual activity? Enable them to feel confident and comfortable seeking advice, support and contraception? This one-day training course will enable professionals to develop their knowledge and confidence to support young people in making healthy choices with regard to their sexuality and sexual activity. Training includes discussions, group work and activities that can be used with young people.

Learning Outcomes

All participants will have the opportunity to:

- Describe their own values in relation to children, young people and sexual development
- Understand the causes and effects of early sex
- Practice a range of practical ways of working with young people to help them make positive and healthy decisions for themselves
- Consider the concept of 'readiness' for young people and to introduce a decision-making resource for them to use in assessing this

Understanding Serious Youth Violence, Gangs and the Criminal Exploitation of Children

Background

Young people in gangs are often vulnerable individuals who can be both perpetrators and victims of harm. Work is required to prevent children from joining gangs and to safeguard children already involved or at risk of exploitation

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will:

- Have an improved understanding of child criminal exploitation (CCE) and serious group violence
- Identify the push/pull factors that make young people vulnerable to exploitation, violence and harmful group identity
- Understand the role social media plays in relation to either 'gangs' or group violence
- Be able to identify indicators at the earliest stages possible of involvement in harmful group activity and serious group violence

Young Women and Girls Affected by 'Gangs' and County Lines

Background

Figures from the Children's Commissioner for England suggest that girls account for as many as 34% of the 6,830 children aged under 17 in England assessed by councils as being involved in gangs. Girls caught up in gangs are at risk of both criminal and sexual exploitation

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this session, participants will be able:

- To understand the differences in how boys and girls experience criminal exploitation, youth violence and gangs
- To recognise some of the ways girls are groomed
- To list different indicators and vulnerability factors
- To learn about different services available in Redbridge

Creating Safer Settings for Children and Families

In this section of our Programme, the learning is based on the essential components required in creating safe settings for children. It draws on key government guidance, Working Together to Safeguard Children, internal learning reviews, national reports and evidence-based practice.

Courses aim to enhance the knowledge, skills, attitudes and multi-agency collaboration needed to be the trusted and vigilant adults around children and young people.

Children's Rights and Safeguarding

This training is delivered by UNICEF UK as part of Redbridge's commitment and work towards recognition as a Child Friendly Community.

Join us for a practical and interactive introduction to children's rights as set out in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC).

Learning Objectives:

- Hear more about Redbridge's journey towards international recognition as a UNICEF UK Child Friendly Community
- Consider how children's rights support and fundamentally underpin the work of the Redbridge Safeguarding Children Partnership
- Improve your understanding of children's human rights
- Explore the meaning and principles of a child rights-based approach
- Learn how to apply a child rights-based approach to your work and make a real difference to the lives of children and young people in Redbridge

Early Help for Children and Families – An Introduction to the CAF (Common Assessment Framework)

FREE TRAINING

Background

The aim of this course is to increase participants' understanding of early help for children and families and the CAF assessment process. The workshop will provide participants with an opportunity to explore the Team around the Family (TAF) approach and safeguarding roles within it.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course participants will:

- Have an overview of the Common Assessment Framework (CAF) and how this fits into wider Safeguarding Procedures;
- Have a greater understanding of the CAF, its principles and when it should be used.
- Know how the CAF works within Redbridge and which services are available to families.
- Know what to expect at a Team Around the Family Meeting.

Managing Allegations Against Staff and Volunteers

FREE TRAINING

Background information

This half day training session will enable practitioners to reflect on current practice and responsibilities and to perform more confidently in their role in recognising and reporting allegations of abuse against staff and volunteers who work in the children’s workforce. It will provide an opportunity to understand the legal and procedural requirements in this important area of safeguarding children and young people.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course participants will be able to:

- Learn how to develop a culture of safe working practice within the work environment and minimise the risk of allegations being made.
- Recognise and respond as a professional to indicators of abuse
- Understand the process of a referral in respect of allegations against staff and volunteers

Safer Recruitment

Background

This course is aimed at managers and other recruitment panel members recruiting staff who will be carrying out direct work with children and young people.

The course is based on materials provided by the Safer Recruitment Consortium which is a partnership between four organisations, (NSPCC, Lucy Faithfull Foundation, NASS and CAPE).

The course is set within the context of Keeping children safe in education – Statutory guidance for schools and colleges and Working Together to Safeguard Children 2023 guidance for safer working practice for those working with children and young people in education settings.

Delegates are required to undertake some pre-course reading and down-load a workbook to bring to the training, which will be e-mailed in advance of the course. Achievement of the certificate provided by the Consortium is dependent on passing an assessment.

Learning Outcomes

- Identify key features of staff recruitment that help deter or prevent the appointment of unsuitable people.
- Consider policies and practice that minimise opportunities for abuse or ensure its prompt reporting.
- Help participants to be able to review their policies and practice in recruitment with a view to creating a safer culture.

Understanding Thresholds and Making Referrals

Redbridge Safeguarding Children Partnership

FREE TRAINING

Background

Department for Education (DfE) research into Serious Case Reviews identified that 'thresholds' for intervention can vary between agencies; differences in perceived thresholds can lead to frustration or breakdown in effective working, resulting in children falling through the gaps or their needs not being met. Reports have also emphasised the importance of supporting professionals with their duty to escalate concerns.

In Redbridge, the London Safeguarding Children Partnership's multi-agency document, Threshold -Continuum of Need Matrix, sets out the thresholds for referral for use by all agencies and professionals who are worried or concerned about a child's safety or welfare. This course aims to support front-line workers and managers in its use. The course will also refer to the RSCP's Resolution and Escalation Policy, which aims to promote a culture of partnerships, working by supporting professionals to address differences in professional judgements around the response to the safety and wellbeing of children and young people.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will:

- Be able to describe and understand the 'levels of need' that will be applied to determine whether the child and family can be appropriately and safely helped by early intervention and family support services.
- Have discussed indicators of different kinds of risk within these levels.
- Know how to access services for children with different levels of need effectively, and what kind of response can be expected.

Voice of the Child and Safeguarding

Background

This training is based on learning from Serious Case Reviews (SCRs), research and good practice in relation to the 'voice' of the child. It is intended for professionals who work directly with children and young people and managers of front-line workers.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this half-day session participants will:

- Have an understanding of the importance of the 'voice' of the child.
- Know messages from Serious Case Reviews and research, including the impact of not listening to children
- Receive guidance and resources to demonstrate that the 'voice' of the child is central to promoting welfare and safeguarding in their setting.

Background

This course is for those who manage or supervise those who work with children and families. It will consider the legislation and practice guidance that supports your responsibilities as lead in safeguarding and further develop your knowledge and skill of working in partnership with other agencies and professionals supporting children and their families involved in early help and child protection. To attend this course, we require you to first complete our Level 2 Training, Working Together to Safeguard Children – A Shared Responsibility.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will:

- Recognise and challenge their own values regarding abuse and maltreatment and its impact on professional practice.
- State the processes needed to ensure a safe environment for children.
- Recognise barriers and challenge blocks to disclosure of abuse
- Understand the actions to take when informed of concerns, including concerns regarding staff or volunteers.
- Understand the Early Intervention Process and the workings of the Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub
